Borderland Russians Identity Narrative And International Relations Palgrave Studies In International Relations:

Borderland Russians G. Hønneland, 2010-10-13 Geir Hønneland discusses some of the big questions in social science What is identity What is the role of identity and narrative in the study of international relations The location is the Kola Peninsula the most heavily militarized area of the world during the Cold War now set to become Europe's next big oil playground

The Uncertainty Doctrine Alexandra Homolar, 2023-09-14 The post Cold War era is often seen as a missed opportunity of epic proportions for the United States to turn swords into ploughshares with much of the blame placed on international developments The Uncertainty Doctrine challenges the conventional take on post Cold War history as imposed on the US by events largely outside its control It shows in rich empirical detail how America's peace dividend did not merely fall by the wayside but was actively undermined by the narrative contests over the security implications of the New World Order Committed to understanding the ontological significance of narrative in international security Alexandra Homolar demonstrates that political agents have the capacity to respond to a systemic shock through discursive adaptation and reorganization While narrative politics may not always matter in US defense policy at moments perceived as bifurcation points it can be decisive in why some strategic responses prevail over possible alternatives

Migration, Citizenship and the Challenge for Security A. Innes, 2015-04-07 This study focuses on the field of security studies through the prism of migration Using ethnographic methods to illustrate an experiential theory of security taken from the perspective of migrants and asylum seekers in Europe it effectively offers a means of moving beyond state based and state centric theories in International Relations

Russia and the Arctic Geir Hønneland, 2020-01-09 The world is currently witnessing an Arctic Scramble as the major powers compete to demarcate and occupy Arctic territory The region is known to be home to large gas and oil reserves and its position at the top of the globe holds significant trading and military advantages Yet the territorial boundaries of the region remain ill defined and Russia under the increasingly bold foreign policy of Vladimir Putin has emerged as a forceful power in the region Geir Hønneland investigates the political contexts and international tensions surrounding Russia's actions focusing especially on the disputes which have emerged in the Barents Sea where European and Russian interests compete directly Skillfully delineating Russian policy in the region and analyzing the mineral and environmental consequences of the recent treaty agreements Russia and the Arctic is a crucial addition to our understanding of contemporary International Relations concerning the Polar North This new updated edition takes into account Russia's recent moves in the Arctic region and the development of the Arctic council

African Constructions of China Kwaku Opoku Dankwah, 2023-12-12 Marking a constructivist turn in Africa China scholarship this book explores African constructions of China Using Ghana and Kenya as case studies the book outlines the role of diverse state and non state actors in defining what China represents to the region and how it compares to Western powers Resisting Sino and state centric analysis of China Africa relations this book emphasises the importance of African agency in shaping the discourse The book demonstrates that the identity construction of a foreign state such as China takes place both at the international level and at a domestic intrastate level Domestic constructions of China in Ghana and Kenya reflect internal tensions about future directions for African political and socioeconomic development and these constructions in turn help to justify government policies towards China The book concludes by questioning the idea of a straightforward win win relationship and suggests that exploitative hierarchical relations conventionally associated with North South interactions may continue in South South relations This book s important analysis of the role of domestic non state actors in shaping African policymaking extends much needed nuance to a sometimes polarised debate It will be of interest to researchers across the fields of politics international relations global development and African and Chinese Studies Arctic Politics, the Law of the Sea and Russian Identity G. Hønneland, 2014-04-16 This book analyses the Russian opposition to the 2010 Barents Sea delimitation agreement in light of both the Law of the Sea and Russian identity arguing that the agreement s critics and proponents inscribe themselves into different Russian narratives about Russia s rightful place in the world MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures , 2008 Subject Guide to Books in Print , 1991 Russia's Identity in International Relations Raymond Taras, 2012-10-02 Bringing together leading scholars from Russia and outside experts on Russia this book looks at the difference between the image Russia has of itself and the way it is viewed in the West It discusses the historical cultural and political foundations that these images are built upon and goes on to analyse how contested these images are and their impact on Russian identity The book questions whether differing images explain fractiousness in Western Russian relations in the new century or whether distinct imaginary solitudes offer a better platform from which to negotiate differences Providing an innovative comparative study of contemporary images of the country and their impact the book is a significant contribution to studies of globalisation and international relations Russia's Postcolonial Identity V. Morozov, 2015-03-04 Pushing postcolonial studies and constructivist International Relations towards an uneasy dialogue this book looks at Russia as a subaltern empire It demonstrates how the dialectic of the subaltern and the imperial has produced a radically anti Western regime which nevertheless remains locked in a Eurocentric outlook Russian Exceptionalism between East and West Kevork Oskanian, 2021-06-22 This monograph provides a novel long term approach to the role of Russia s imperial legacies in its interactions with the former Soviet space It develops Hybrid Exceptionalism as a critical conceptual tool aimed at uncovering the great power s self positioning between East and West and its hierarchical claims over subalterns situated in both civilizational imaginaries It explores how in the Tsarist Soviet and contemporary eras distinct civilizational spaces were created and maintained through narratives and practices emanating from Russia s ambiguous relationship with Western modernity and its part identification with a subordinated Orient The Romanov Empire s struggles with Russianness the USSR s Marxism Leninism and contemporary Russia s combination of feigned liberal and civilizational discourses are explored as the basis of a series of successive civilising missions through an interdisciplinary engagement with official discourses scholarship and the arts The book concludes with an exploration of contemporary policy implications for the West and the former Soviet states themselves

Russia and the Idea of Europe Iver B. Neumann, 2016-10-14 The end of the Soviet system and the transition to the market in Russia coupled with the inexorable rise of nationalism brought to the fore the centuries old debate about Russia's relationship with Europe In this revised and updated second edition of Russia and the Idea of Europe Iver Neumann discusses whether the tensions between self-referencing nationalist views and Europe-orientated liberal views can ever be resolved Drawing on a wide range of Russian sources this book retains the broad historical focus of the previous edition and picks up from where it left off in the early 1990s bringing the discussion fully up to date Discussing theoretical and political developments it relates the existing story of Russian identity formation to new foreign policy analysis and the developments in the study of nationalism The book also offers an additional focus on post-Cold War developments In particular it examines the year 2000 when Putin succeeded Yeltsin as president and 2014 when Russian foreign policy turned from cooperation to confrontation Bringing to life the various debates surrounding this complicated relationship in an accessible and clear manner this book continues to be a unique and vital resource for both students and scholars of international relations

Borderlands into Bordered Lands. Geopolitics of Identity in Post-Soviet Ukraine Tatiana Zhurzhenko, 2010-07-09 Since 1991 post-Soviet political elites in Ukraine, Russia and Belarus have been engaged in nation as well as state building They have tried to strengthen territorial sovereignty and national security, re-shape collective identities and re-narrate national histories Former Soviet republics have become new neighbours, partners and competitors searching for geopolitical identity in the new Eastern Europe, i.e. the countries left outside the enlarged EU Old paradigms such as Eurasia or East Slavic civilisation have been re-invented and politically instrumentalized in the international relations and domestic politics of these countries At the same time these old concepts and myths have been contested and challenged by pro-Western elites The main subject of this book is the construction of post-Soviet borders and their political, social and cultural implications It focuses on the exemplary case of the Ukrainian-Russian border, approaching it as a social construct and a discursive phenomenon The book shows how the symbolic meanings of and narratives on this border contribute to national identity formation and shape the images of the neighbouring countries as the Other, thereby shedding new light on the role of border disputes between Ukraine and Russia in bilateral relations in EU neighbourhood politics and in domestic political conflicts The study also addresses border making on the regional level, focusing on the cross-border cooperation between Kharkiv and Belgorod and on the dilemmas of a Euroregion in the absence of Europe Finally it reflects the everyday experiences of the residents of near-border villages and shows how national and local identities are performed at and transformed by the new border

National Identity and Ethnicity in Russia and the New States of Eurasia Roman Szporluk, 1994 First Published in 1995 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an Informa company

Power and

Conflict in Russia's Borderlands Helena Rytövuori-Apunen, 2019-10-21 As Cold War battle lines are seemingly re drawn Russia's various frozen war zones ongoing separatist conflicts are often cited as particularly volatile and assumed by some Western commentators and policymakers to be next on Putin's wish list But as Helena Rytövuori-Apunen demonstrates here this is a gross and dangerous oversimplification that will only serve to fuel the vicious circle of reciprocal military escalation Drawing on a range of empirical research and across separatist conflicts in Georgia South Ossetia and Abkhazia Moldova Transnistria and Gagauzia and Azerbaijan Nagorno Karabakh and the 2014 annexation of Crimea from Ukraine her timely book provides a balanced assessment and critique of the assumptions and misunderstandings that inform mainstream discussions as well as placing the conflicts in their proper and complex historical contexts At a time when there is an increasing tendency to view Russia as the source of all instability in Eastern Europe Power and Conflict in Russia's Borderlands is essential reading for anyone interested in the geopolitics of post Soviet Russia as well as policymakers and practitioners of peace conflict resolution studies

Contemporary Identity and Memory in the Borderlands of Poland and Germany Aleksandra Biniewicz, 2018-09-30 The book analyses issues associated with the contemporary and memory in the Polish German borderlands a complex multidimensional cultural and geographic area The first section of the book which focuses on contemporary issues is divided into three parts namely a theoretical body records of conversations with the inhabitants of the borderlands who are engaged in social activities and records of workshops and conversations that brought together teenage inhabitants of the borderlands Close cooperation with the inhabitants of two borderland towns resulted in several interesting perspectives on the borderlands which are seen as a physical space as well as a mental intimate close and sometimes frustrating space subject to micro and macro scale transformations In this book the borderlands are viewed from these two perspectives The micro scale is marked out by the individual experience of the inhabitants of the borderlands and the macro scale by the institutional framework established for the purpose of constructing an integrated community on the border

Rebounding Identities Dominique Arel, Blair A. Ruble, 2006 An examination of post Soviet society through ethnic religious and linguistic criteria this volume turns what is typically anthropological subject matter into the basis of politics sociology and history Ten chapters cover such diverse subjects as Ukrainian language revival Tatar language revival nationalist separatism and assimilation in Russia religious pluralism in Russia and in Ukraine mobilization against Chinese immigration and even the politics of mapmaking A few of these chapters are principally historical connecting tsarist and Soviet constructions to today's systems and struggles The introduction by Dominique Arel sets out the project in terms of new scholarly approaches to identity and the conclusion by Blair A. Ruble draws out political and social implications that challenge citizens and policy makers Rebounding Identities is based on a series of workshops held at the Kennan Institute in 2002 and 2003

Russia's Image in International Relations Uliana Skurikhina, 2014

East Or West? Andrei Piontkovskiĭ, 2006 The break up of the Soviet Union in 1991 was a geopolitical earthquake that redrew the map of Europe and

Central Asia In his state of the nation address in April 2005 Russia's President Vladimir Putin went so far as to describe it as the biggest geopolitical catastrophe of the twentieth century His declaration caused a stir among the world's political scientists sociologists economists and even philosophers Yet the full import of his words was lost on much of his foreign audience For the Russian people Putin continued the collapse of the Soviet Union became a real drama Imagining Russia Kimberly A. Williams, 2012-02-15 Co winner of the 2009 SUNY Press Dissertation First Book Prize in Women's and Gender Studies Imagining Russia uses U S Russian relations between the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991 and the U S led invasion of Iraq in 2003 as a case study to examine the deployment of gendered racialized and heteronormative visual and narrative depictions of Russia and Russians in contemporary narratives of American nationalism and U S foreign policy Through analyses of several key post Soviet American popular and political texts including the hit television series The West Wing Washington D C's International Spy Museum and the legislative hearings of the Freedom Support Act and the Trafficking Victims Protection Act Williams calls attention to the production and operation of five types of gendered Russian imaginaries that were explicitly used to bolster support for and legitimize U S geopolitical unilateralism after the dissolution of the Soviet Union demonstrating the ways that the masculinization of U S military political and financial power after 1991 paved the way for the invasion of Iraq in 2003
