Born Red A Chronicle Of The Cultural Revolution:

Born Red Yuan Gao, 1987-06-01 Born Red is an artistically wrought personal account written very much from inside the experience of the years 1966-1969 when the author was a young teenager at middle school. It was in the middle schools that much of the fury of the Cultural Revolution and Red Guard movement was spent and Gao was caught up in very dramatic events which he recounts as he understood them at the time. Gao's father was a county political official who was in and out of trouble during those years and the intense interplay between father and son and the differing perceptions and impact of the Cultural Revolution for the two generations provide both an unusual perspective and some extraordinary moving moments. He also makes deft use of traditional mythology and proverbial wisdom to link sometimes ironically past and present. Gao relates in vivid fashion how students turned Red Guards held mass rallies against capitalist roader teachers and administrators marching them through the streets to the accompaniment of chants and jeers and driving some of them to suicide. Eventually the students divided into two factions and school and town became armed camps. Gao tells of the exhilaration that he and his comrades experienced at their initial victories of their deepening disillusionment as they utter defeat as the tumultuous first phase of the Cultural Revolution came to a close. The portraits of the persons to whom Gao introduces us classmates teachers family members gain weight and density as the story unfolds so that in the end we see how they all became victims of the dynamics of a mass movement out of control.

The Cultural Revolution and Overacting Tuo Wang, 2014-09-24 The Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution which took place in China between 1966 and 1976 was a major political and social tragedy in Chinese history. As part of an effort to understand how the state enforced control amid seeming chaos this book looks at the ubiquitous revolutionary presentations and performances of power such as political rituals revolutionary rhetoric and public gatherings in people's everyday lives during the Cultural Revolution as performances that contributed to the control of the Chinese people. In particular this book discusses how the promotion of revolutionary models in real life contributed to people's eagerness to perform the role of the ideal revolutionary and how the possibility of complete revolutionary transformation promoted by the state media and the hard fact that no one was able to completely become a Maoist subject who would be completely selfless and think and speak only Maoist teaching subjected people to a state of becoming but never fully having become The fear of failing in the Maoist transformation constituted the inner mechanism that propelled ordinary people's radical revolutionary behavior In addition this book examines the audience's reaction to Jiang Qing's court performance in the trial of the Gang of Four as an anarchic liberation from the revolutionary performance of the Cultural Revolution Utilizing methodologies of cultural anthropology linguistics acting theory and literary criticism this book reveals how people's performances of their everyday life functioned as mechanisms of social control
