

NetSim is a tool that simulates Cisco Systems' networking hardware and software and is designed to give you the hands-on experience of entering commands and configuring protocols needed to pass your certification exam.

NetSim comes with guided labs covering the topics that are covered on the corresponding certification exam. NetSim labs are preconfigured and designed to improve your understanding and master the skills necessary to complete your certification.

Quick Start Guide

From the Home page (netsim.boson.com), click Load a Lab to access the Labs page.

- 1 Select the lab tree for the exam that you want to prepare for.
- 2 Then select a specific lab title. You will see a brief description of the lab and the topology diagram.
- 3 Load Lab. Then follow the instructions and enter the commands necessary to complete each step.
- 4 When you have finished a lab, click the Grade button to verify that you have completed a lab successfully. NetSim compares your running configuration to what is expected and highlights any differences.
- 5 Continue working through labs until you can complete each lab without skipping ahead to the lab solutions. We're confident that our collection of labs will comfortably prepare you for any configuration item necessary to pass your exam.

The screenshot shows the NetSim software interface. At the top, there are tabs for File, Edit, Assets, Designer, and Help. The main title is "Configuring Router Interfaces". Below the title, a sub-header says "Configure the interfaces on a router, and learn what is required for the interface to be up." A "Select the lab tree" button is highlighted with a green box and a green arrow pointing to it from the "Select the lab tree" step in the quick start guide. To the right of the sub-header is a "View Document" button and a "Load Lab" button. Below the sub-header is a topology diagram showing three routers (R1, R2, R3) connected in a triangle. Router R1 is at the top, R2 is at the bottom left, and R3 is at the bottom right. Router R1 has an interface labeled "S0/0" connected to R2, and another interface labeled "S0/1" connected to R3. Router R2 has an interface labeled "S0/0" connected to R1, and another interface labeled "S0/1" connected to R3. Router R3 has an interface labeled "S0/0" connected to R1, and another interface labeled "S0/1" connected to R2. The routers are represented by blue circles with a stylized "X" inside. At the bottom of the screen is a "Lab History" section with a "Grade" button highlighted with a green box and a green arrow pointing to it from the "Grade" step in the quick start guide. The "Grade" button has a green number "1" on it. To the right of the "Grade" button is a "Solved a lab title" button highlighted with a green box and a green arrow pointing to it from the "Solved a lab title" step in the quick start guide. The "Solved a lab title" button also has a green number "1" on it. The "Lab History" section shows a table with columns for "Lab Name", "Status", and "Last Modified". The table has two rows, both of which are highlighted with red boxes and green arrows pointing to them from the "Solved a lab title" step in the quick start guide. The first row has a "Status" column value of "Solved" and a "Last Modified" column value of "10/10/2018 10:10:10 AM". The second row has a "Status" column value of "Solved" and a "Last Modified" column value of "10/10/2018 10:10:10 AM".
