Bougainville Manifesto:

Bougainville Manifesto Leonard Fong Roka, 2014-10-31 Leonard Fong Roka comes from Panguna on Bougainville This compilation of essays was made between 2013 and 2014 and first appeared on the website Keith Jackson Friends PNG Attitude The essays outline the history of Bougainville including the civil war in the 1980 90s and suggests a way forward towards eventual independence from Papua New Guinea Large-scale Mines and Local-level Politics Colin Filer, Pierre-Yves Le Meur, 2017-10-20 Despite the difference in their populations and political status New Caledonia and Papua New Guinea have comparable levels of economic dependence on the extraction and export of mineral resources For this reason the costs and benefits of large scale mining projects for indigenous communities has been a major political issue in both jurisdictions and one that has come to be negotiated through multiple channels at different levels of political organisation The resource boom that took place in the early years of the current century has only served to intensify the political contests and conflicts that surround the distribution of social economic and environmental costs and benefits between community members and other stakeholders in the large scale mining industry However the mutual isolation of Anglophone and Francophone scholars has formed a barrier to systematic comparison of the relationship between large scale mines and local level politics in Papua New Guinea and New Caledonia despite their geographical proximity This collection of essays represents an effort to overcome this barrier but is also intended as a major contribution to the growth of academic and political debate about the social impact of the large scale mining industry in Melanesia and beyond Encyclopedia of Stateless Nations James B. Minahan, 2016-08-01 This book addresses the numerous national movements of ethnic groups around the world seeking independence more self rule or autonomy movements that have proliferated exponentially in the 21st century In the last 15 years globalization religious radicalization economic changes endangered cultures and languages cultural suppression racial tensions and many other factors have stimulated the emergence of autonomy and independence movements in every corner of the world even in areas formerly considered immune to self government demands such as South America Researching the numerous ethnic groups seeking autonomy or independence worldwide previously required referencing many specialized publications This book makes this difficult to find information available in a single volume presented in a simple format accessible to everyone from high school readers to scholars in advanced studies programs The book provides an extensive update to Greenwood s Encyclopedia of the Stateless Nations Ethnic and National Groups around the World that was published more than a decade earlier Each ethnic group receives an alphabetically organized entry containing information such as alternate names population figures flag or flags geography history culture and languages All the information readers need to understand the motivating factors behind each movement and the current situation of each ethnic group is presented in a compact summary Fact boxes at the beginning of each entry enable students to quickly access key information and consistent entry structure makes for easy cross cultural comparisons Moving Mountains Geoffrey

Russell Evans, James Goodman, Nina Lansbury, 2002 Transnational mining companies are key agents of corporate globalization They are often larger than national economies and dominate governments local peoples and their environments In response affected communities and non government organizations are creating new agendas for change and justice

Secession and the Sovereignty Game Ryan D. Griffiths, 2021-05-15 Secession and the Sovereignty Game offers a comprehensive strategic theory for how secessionist movements attempt to win independence Combining original data analysis fieldwork interviews with secessionist leaders and case studies on Catalonia the Murrawarri Republic West Papua Bougainville New Caledonia and Northern Cyprus Ryan D Griffiths shows how the rules and informal practices of sovereign recognition create a strategic playing field between existing states and aspiring nations that he terms the sovereignty game To win sovereign statehood all secessionist movements have to maneuver on the same strategic playing field while varying their tactics according to local conditions To obtain recognition secessionist movements use tactics of electoral capture nonviolent civil resistance and violence To persuade the home state and the international community they appeal to normative arguments regarding earned sovereignty decolonization the right to choose inherent sovereignty and human rights

The pursuit of independence can be enormously disruptive and is quite often violent By advancing a theory that explains how sovereign recognition has succeeded in the past and is working in the present and by anticipating the practices of future secessionist movements Secession and the Sovereignty Game also prescribes solutions that could make the sovereignty game less conflictual
