Ackerman, 1997 There is a growing awareness of behavioural problems that occur in companion animals As owners expect ever more from their veterinarians correction of behavioural problems is one factor that can increase the success of the practice. This book has been written by veterinarians with practical experience of diagnosing and treating behavioural disorders in dogs and cats. The approach to behavioural problems reflects that taken to medical disorders: history taking and evaluation, physical examination, differential diagnosis, diagnostic tests, treatment and monitoring. Detailed descriptions of behavioural modification techniques are given, as well as information on drug therapy. Case examples illustrate each problem. The role of the veterinary practice in providing information on puppy selection and early training is also emphasised. Reading this book will help veterinarians to incorporate behavioural consultations and counselling into their practices.

Canine and Feline Behavior Problems Stefanie Schwartz, 1994. A set of handouts on 52 behavioural topics in dogs and cats. Topics covered include aggression, barking, elimination problems, house training, territoriality, reproduction, neuroses, destructiveness, selecting a pet, loss of a pet, training, travelling, boarding, moving, grooming and phobias.
