The Integument is considered an organ system because it consists of multiple organs, the skin and its accessory organs. It is much more than an external body covering; architecturally, the skin is a marvel. It is tough yet pliable, a characteristic that enables it to withstand constant insult from outside agents. The skin has many functions, most concerned with protection. It insulates and cushions the underlying body tissues and protects the entire body from abrasion, exposure to harmful chemicals, temperature extremes, and bacterial invasion. The hardened uppermost layer of the skin prevents water loss from the body surface.
