Birth Religious English Dissenting Community:

Birth, Death, and Religious Faith in an English Dissenting Community Albion M. Urdank, 2015-12-17 This study lies at the intersection of three principal areas of social history demography religion and quantitative methods It is a microanalysis of an English population at the level of the Anglican parish during the era of the evangelical revival which includes unusually Protestant dissenters from the Established church in this case Particular Baptists who were moderate Calvinists It goes a step beyond previous studies by giving Anglicans and Dissenters co equal status in a comparative demographic analysis and by demonstrating how religious values informed procreative activity It does so through a combination of advanced statistical methodologies and an innovative treatment of data collection forms as readable texts The study concludes that the likelihood of another birth increased following a religious conversion experience especially among both Anglican and Baptist wives following marriage Mortality too had a less constraining effect on procreative activity which in conformity with the English experience was driven largely by fertility

The Textual Culture of English Protestant Dissent 1720-1800 Tessa Whitehouse, 2015-12-17 Religious dissenters and their literary and social heritage are the principal subjects of this book At its heart is a group of English men whose activities were local transcontinental and circum Atlantic Drawing on letters lecture notes manuscript accounts of academies and a range of printed texts and paratexts The Textual Culture of English Protestant Dissent 1720 1800 explores the connections between dissent education and publishing in the eighteenth century By considering Isaac Watts and Philip Doddridge in relation to their mentors students friends and readers it emphasizes the importance they and their associates attached to personal relationships in their private interactions and in print It argues that this contributed to a distinctive literary style as well as particular modes of textual production for moderate orthodox dissenters which reached beyond their own community to address and influence global discourses about education enlightenment and history The book s focus on textual culture foregrounds relationships between forms as well as considering texts as they existed in one form or another In examining textual culture this book emphasises adaptation transformation fluidity and communality it approaches the human relationships that make texts including friendships reading communities intellectual exchange and business arrangements with as much care as the content of the texts themselves The book demonstrates that models of family and social authorship among Romantic era dissenters advanced by Michelle Levy Daniel White and Felicity James were rooted in the domestic culture at earlier academies and in the example of members of the Watts Doddridge circle
