In Search Of Ancient Civilizations:

In Search Of The First Civilizations Michael Wood, 2013-04-30 Five thousand years ago there began the most momentous revolution in human history Starting in Mesopotamia city civilization emerged for the first time on earth to be followed in Egypt India China and the Americas The ideals of these ancient civilizations still shape the lives of the majority of mankind In Search of the First Civilizations previously published as Legacy asks the intriguing question what is civilization Did it mean the same to the Chinese the Indians and the Greeks What can the values of the ancient cultures teach us today And do the ideals of the West a latecomer to civilization really have universal validity In this fascinating historical search Michael Wood explores these ancient cultures looking for their essential character and their continuing legacy A brilliant exploration Sunday Times Well written gorgeous and guaranteed to induce thought Wood takes great care to put everything in a large historical perspective which is actually more disturbing than comforting New York Post

World Heritage Angkor and Beyond Brigitta Hauser-Schäublin, 2011 Angkor the temple and palace complex of the ancient Khmer capital in Cambodia is one of the world's most famous monuments Hundreds of thousands of tourists from all over the globe visit Angkor Park one of the finest UNESCO World Heritage Sites every year Since its UNESCO listing in 1992 the Angkor region has experienced an overwhelming mushrooming of hotels and restaurants the infrastructure has been hardly able to cope with the rapid growth of mass tourism and its needs This applies to the access and use of monument sites as well The authors of this book critically describe and analyse the heritage nomination processes in Cambodia especially in the case of Angkor and the temple of Preah Vihear on the Cambodian Thai border They examine the implications the UNESCO listings have had with regard to the management of Angkor Park and its inhabitants on the one hand and to the Cambodian Thai relationships on the other Furthermore they address issues of development through tourism that UNESCO has recognised as a welcome side effect of heritage listings They raise the question whether development through tourism deepens already existing inequalities rather than contributing to the promotion of the poor Publisher's description

Legacy Michael Wood, 1995 Step into this lavishly illustrated time machine to unlock the secrets and hidden treasures of the first city dwellers and their descendants Visit ancient Mesopotamia now Iraq Egypt India China and the Americas where 5 000 years ago city civilizations developed for the first time in human history Filled with a wealth of color and B W photos this extraordinary book provides a unique tool for studying the birth of civilization By looking at art architecture technology social organization writings and other points common to the areas surveyed you will see the amazing parallels that developed in these independent societies as well as their points of divergence modern racism based on biophysical features such as prejudice did not exist in these ancient societies. It was culture rather than biophysical nature that was the most important criterion for distinguishing us from them. By examining how societies conceive their prejudices, this book breaks new ground in the study of ancient history and opens new ways to look at human society both ancient and modern.

The Bemis History and Genealogy Thomas Waln-Morgan Draper, 1900

Ancient Worlds Richard Miles, 2011-09-29

Across the Middle East, the Mediterranean, and the Nile Delta, awe-inspiring monstrous ruins are scattered across the landscape: vast palaces, temples, fortresses, shattered statues of ancient gods, carvings praising the eternal power of long forgotten dynasties. These ruins, the remainder of thousands of years of human civilization, are both inspirational in their grandeur and terrible in that their once teeming centres of population were all ultimately destroyed and abandoned. In this major book, Richard Miles recreates these extraordinary cities, ranging from the Euphrates to the Roman Empire, to understand the roots of human civilization. His challenge is to make us understand that the cities which define culture, religion, and economic success, and which are humanity's greatest invention, have always had a cruel edge to them: building systems that have provided both amazing opportunities and back-breaking hardship. This exhilarating book is both a pleasure to read and a challenge to us all to think about our past and about the present.

The Heritage of World Civilizations Albert M. Craig, 2005-03
